

Here are 10 powerful principles of leadership by Dr. Myles Munroe, drawn from his books, sermons, and teachings on leadership:

1. TRUE LEADERSHIP BEGINS WITH SELF-DISCOVERY

“The greatest discovery in life is self-discovery. Until you find yourself, you will always be someone else.”

Dr. Munroe believed that leadership starts when you discover your purpose—who you are, why you’re here, and what you’re uniquely designed to do.

2. LEADERSHIP IS ABOUT PURPOSE, NOT POSITION

“Leadership is not about control but about service. It’s not about power, but empowerment.”

Leadership is not a title or job—it’s fulfilling a specific purpose and helping others realize theirs.

3. LEADERS SERVE, NOT DOMINATE

“Leadership is the capacity to influence others through inspiration, not manipulation or intimidation.”

True leaders are servants. They lift others up, not use them to climb.

4. VISION IS THE ESSENCE OF LEADERSHIP

“Where there is no vision, there is no leadership.”

A leader must have a clear vision and the ability to communicate it so powerfully that it ignites faith and action in others.

5. LEADERSHIP DEMANDS CHARACTER AND INTEGRITY

“You cannot lead people if you lack integrity. Leadership is trust.”

Myles Munroe emphasized that leaders must live what they teach. Without character, all influence collapses.

6. LEADERSHIP IS CULTIVATED, NOT INSTINCTIVE

“Leaders are not born; they are made. Leadership is developed through discipline, knowledge, and experience.”

Leadership is a skill that must be learned and refined—not a trait you’re born with.

7. EVERY HUMAN HAS LEADERSHIP POTENTIAL

“Buried within every person is the gift of leadership.”

Dr. Munroe taught that leadership is inherent in all of us—we just need to activate it through self-awareness, vision, and responsibility.

8. PASSION FUELS INFLUENCE

“People don’t follow leaders who have no passion. Passion creates momentum.”

Your belief in your vision—and your energy behind it—determines your ability to lead others toward it.

9. LEADERS PRODUCE MORE LEADERS, NOT FOLLOWERS

“The ultimate goal of leadership is to reproduce leaders.”

True leadership is measured by how many people you empower, not how many people follow you.

10. LEADERSHIP IS ACCOUNTABLE TO A HIGHER STANDARD

“Leadership is not a right—it’s a privilege and responsibility to serve humanity.”

Leaders must always remember they are accountable—not just to people, but to a higher moral and spiritual calling.
